AGAINST ITS GROWING POWER.

President Barker, of the Department of Taxes and Assessments, who was active in the work done by the Advisory Commission appointed by Mayor Grant, to investigate the subject of the care of the insane committed to the care of this city, was asked yesterday for his opinion on the question of local and State care, and the boasts of the State Commissioners, as published in The Tribune. He said:

I do not believe in the State Board of Lunacy being given such autocratic power. If this power continues to grow as it has for a few years past the disclosure of the "State care for the insane" will become a power such as should be avoided and kept clear from charities. The insane cannot be too well cared for, whether it be by local or State boards. Care is their best medicine, and what is needed to restore to them the reason that was intended for all.

Experience gained while serving on the Advisory Commission for the Care of the Insane, appointed by Mayor Grant, demonstrated that local care in this city was not inferior to State care when cost and accommodation were considered. We visited State institutions and examined into their care of the insane and the cost. The result of the work of the Commission was that the State Board of Lunacy, at Central Islip, amply accommodated for the insane, and the city can maintain at a much less per capita cost than the State Board of Lunacy. I regret the erection of these buildings has been delayed so long, and that the city has been compelled to pay for this, and delay means only hardship to the insane in our overcrowded institutions.

By Chapter 24 and 25 of the Laws of 1893 there is imposed for the fiscal year beginning October, 1893, a tax of one-third of a mill on each dollar of total State tax of $4,725,249.95, or $1,567,081.65 more than we were called upon to pay last year.

This new tax, levied this year for the first time, must be understood to be for the care of the insane throughout the State other than in this city and Kings County. In this city no benefit is derived by the insane from State care, and we maintain all the insane committed to our care direct from local taxation. Under this new law we are now, in addition to our own city care, called upon to pay almost half of the whole tax for the State care of the insane.

This city has devoted to this branch of charitable work lands and buildings valued at $300,000 at least. During the year 1893 we cared for an average of 1,000 insane, and the cost of the care of the insane, as shown by Central Islip, of 5,842 patients, at a cost of $525,000, and in addition paid about 47 per cent of the total cost of all those under State care. Chapter 24 and 25 of the Laws of 1893 are in furtherance of the determination of the State Commissioners in Lunacy to force, if possible, this city to pay for the care of the insane, and the State to pay for the care of the insane over to the State the $300,000 worth of property now devoted to the use of the insane, and then submit to such taxation as may be levied upon it by the State.

This city can well afford to be proud of its millions annually expended in charities, and if we cheerfully maintain all the insane committed to our care, and I believe we can do it as well and as economically as the State can, I see no reason why the taxpayers of this city should be called upon to pay for the maintenance of the insane of other portions of the State.

THE MUNICIPALITY SHOULD GET A RETURN.

If the city is called upon so to do I can see no reason why it should not get a return from the State for the amount so expended in the interest, and for the benefit of the insane, in the same manner as is done in the item of a school tax. The State Board of Lunacy thinks that this city should turn over its millions of property to the State, and then be taxed for the care of the insane, with the perhaps permissible voice of a local Board of Trustees, with the lack of power, situated in precisely the position which the local boards throughout the State now complain of.

This city does a great work in charities. It spends millions annually for them, and when such men as Elbridge T. Gerry take a bold stand against State care and in favor of local or city care of the insane, it is one of its greatest charities. I think the taxpayers do not care for the matter, even if the taxpayers do not care for the yearly increasing demands made upon them for State care.

THE PRINT CLOTH MARKET.

Fall River, Mass., Dec. 9 (Special).—The print cloth market has held steady during the week, and there has been no increase in the stock on hand. The weekly cloth market is as follows: Production, 190,000 yards; sales, 180,000 yards; stock on hand, 127,000 yards, of which 18,000 were old goods, 2,900 states, 27,000 yards and 16,000 futures. DAVID ROSENFELD'S INSANITY.

A WELL-KNOWN MEMBER OF THE PRODUCE EXCHANGE MAKES AN UNPROVOKED ASSAULT ON A STRANGER IN BROADWAY.

David Rosenfeld, a well-known member of the Produce Exchange, and formerly of the Stock Exchange, has been sent to the department for the insane at Bellevue Hospital on an order from the Yorkville Police Court, where he was brought on a charge of assault made by Albert W. Van Winkle, a lawyer, of No. 22 West 47th Street. While Mr. Van Winkle was passing the Barrett House, in Broadway, last Friday morning, he happened to take out his handkerchief. Rosenfeld suddenly began to assault him with stones and frozen mud. To say that Mr. Van Winkle was surprised would not adequately express the intensity of excitement into which he was plunged. Rosenfeld was then, it is known to Mr. Van Winkle, Rosenfeld accused him of being a member of a gang which had been annoying him for years. The effect of the handkerchief on Rosenfeld was then discovered by the assault's next charge, which was that Mr. Van Winkle was trying to choke him. Mr. Rosenfeld, who was violently excited at this point, said that the gang had been trying to choke him for weeks.

At this point Mr. Van Winkle's patience gave out, and he had Rosenfeld arrested. At the Yorkville Police Court, Rosenfeld said that a Mr. Lovenshall was a friend of his who knew him well. The friend Rosenfeld mentioned is Charles L. Lovenshall, a well-known member of the Produce Exchange, who is known to the police as "The Hebrew World." He was seen yesterday and said that Rosenfeld was his brother-in-law. "He is a subject of my family," he said, "and he is a harmless man. He is a widower and has no children. He was considered a good business man and has a good reputation. He is one of the best Hebrew families of Boston."

MR. RISSELL'S TOUR OF INSPECTION.

THE POSTMASTER-GENERAL FINISHES MANY THINGS WHICH NEED REPAIRING.

Postmaster-General Russell and his first assistant, Frank Jones, learned something at New York yesterday about the needs of the New York Postoffice. They spent two hours and a half with Postmaster Dayton, in which they made a thorough inspection of the general Postoffice and the new branch in the Industrial Building, at Forty-third-st. and Lexington-ave. Mr. Russell expressed his disgust with the sanitary arrangements of the big downtown building, and especially with the filthy condition of the new branch in the department. He said it was an outrage to make men work in such quarters. He meant to ask Congress for an appropriation of $300,000. If he obtained it, he expected to give the metropolis better postal facilities.

The Postmaster-General was not satisfied with the showing made by the new branch office in Forty-third-st. He said it was not doing the work expected of it, and he ordered that two superintendents in the building, one of Station H, and the other of the branch postoffice, should be removed. He said that the branch postoffice was a disgrace to the service, and that the system of stations should be reorganized. Some of these had more business than they ought to have, and others less. The number should be increased and there should be a new allotment of territory.

Postmaster Dayton has visited Sub-Station No. 21, which was opened in its new quarters, No. 21 West 47th-st., for the first time. Mr. Russell said that this is situated in a barren, Mr. Dayton found it to be in the same building with a liquor house, and that the new branch postoffice was a disgrace to the service, and that the system of stations should be reorganized. Some of these had more business than they ought to have, and others less. The number should be increased and there should be a new allotment of territory.

EX-GOVERNOR CAMPBELL IN COURT.

A. H. EVANS, CHARGED BY A. H. PURDY WITH ASSAULT, IS PAROLED IN THE CUSTODY OF A PROMINENT OIL POLITICIAN.

Andrew H. Purdy and his former law partner, Amos H. Evans, appeared in the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday, Mr. Purdy as complainant and Mr. Evans as a prisoner charged with felonious assault. On November 27 the two lawyers had a dispute in their office at No. 116 Cent-st., and it is alleged that Mr. Evans struck Mr. Purdy in both eyes with a metal ring, causing Mr. Purdy's eyes to assume a dark, bluish hue, and making it impossible for the owner thereof to remain in doors several days.

Mr. Evans was arrested in the reading-room of the Continental Hotel late Friday night, and was locked up in the West Thirtieth-st. station. Although he was charged with felonious assault, he was paroled in his custody. Justice Koch agreed to this, and the two lawyers left court, glaring fiercely at each other.

BANK ROBBERS BROUGHT BACK.

A SUIT FOR INFRINGEMENT FALLS.

Boston, Dec. 9.—Judge Colt, of the United States Circuit Court, sent down a decision today in the case of Sylvester W. Forsythe, administrator, against the Lowell Machine Shop Company, a suit in equity to recover $30,000 for the alleged infringement on a machine. The plaintiff was the son of John F. Forsythe, who secured the patent in 1862. Nine years afterward, in 1871, the patent expired, and in 1872, or eighteen years after his death, and ten years after the expiration of the patent, the plaintiff brought suit against the company for the infringement of his patent during the term of seventeen years for which it was granted, and claiming actual damages for the above amount. In his decision Judge Colt says: "It does not appear that the patentee made any claim for damages during his lifetime, and the furniture and fixtures are of little value. I shall be lucky if I realize 25 per cent of my claim. Smith & Co's books, containing accounts of recent transactions, have also disappeared, and no one knows how the firm stood. They borrowed money and ran up bills, but it is thought that their liabilities do not exceed $500.
